Chapter 1: Just an ordinary day with the Grizzlegrots

Greta and Griffin Grizzlegrot could never agree on anything.

“The day is too cold,” said Griffin Grizzlegrot.

“No, it’s not,” said Greta. “The air is lovely. It’s fresh.”

“Speaking of ‘fresh’, this fruit salad is not very fresh!” she said.

“Yes, it is!” said Griffin. “It is perfect. It’s the best fruit salad I’ve ever eaten.”
The Grizzlegrots could not stop arguing. They argued all night and all day.

“The sun is too hot,” said Greta.

“I don’t,” said Greta. “I love dark nights because I can look at the moon. I’d love to go to the moon.”

“Me too!” said Griffin. “I would love to go to the moon too.”

The Grizzlegrots had finally agreed on something!
